

CAWDOR RIFLE AND GUN CLUB

Thank you for your enquiry.

At Cawdor, we mostly shoot full-bore rifles at ranges from 100-600yds. We also cater for black powder muzzle-loading rifles and pistols as well as pistol-calibre carbines and .22 rim-fire rifles on our 50m range. Our members range from dedicated target shooters to those who have an interest in historic firearms and everything in between. We shoot at least on every second Sunday throughout the year, and from May to Sept we also shoot every Tues evening.

The club owns several .308 target rifles (some with scopes), a .303 No4 Lee Enfield, a .357 Henry under-lever carbine, a .22 under-lever rifle, .22 semi-automatic rifle and a .44 black powder revolver. There is no requirement to own your own firearm. We can supply ammunition for all of the above.

Guidance for prospective new members

If you are thinking about joining the club, then the process is pretty straightforward. You do not require any prior experience, as we will provide all of the necessary instruction and equipment.

As our sport requires access to firearms, there is a set procedure which we have to follow. This requires us to have Police Scotland perform a background-check on all prospective members as well as either a current Full Member who knows you personally to act as a sponsor or for you to provide details of someone we can contact to obtain a character reference.

Our preferred method of membership application is as follows:

Arrange to come along to one of our range days and meet us. Dates are on the website, please avoid days marked BDS or Strathpeffer. There are directions on the web-site. You can safely drive onto the range even though the red flag is flying at the entrance. You will be in no danger as long as you stop where the cars are parked or stop if there is a sign in the middle of the road. We shoot from 1000 onwards on Sundays so if you can, please aim to arrive somewhere between 1100 and 1300. Over the summer we shoot on Tuesday evenings from 1800 until approx 2000.

Feel free to ask any questions. Please bring the completed form, Photo ID and a non-refundable £5 admin fee. The reason for this is that we are getting an increasing number of people who show interest but after we have processed the application form are never seen again.

We will then either contact your sponsoring member or obtain a reference. You will be informed of the outcome, and if all is in order then your application will be open for one month from that date, after which we will deem your application closed. This period can be extended if there are circumstances such as work commitments which mean you cannot attend the range. All we ask is that you inform us of this.

You will then be granted Probationary Membership on payment of £20 (£10 for students/juniors). Due to a change in Police Scotland's procedures, we will then action the police check before you can actually handle firearms. Be assured that the police provide us no details, only a 'Yes' or 'No' response. If this check fails, then we will refund your £20/£10. If it comes back clear, then you will be able to shoot and to begin your Probationary training. Your progression to Full Membership will be determined by current/previous experience and will be explained to you when you join. On completion of your Probationary period, you will progress to Full Membership upon payment of the balance of the Full Member's fee.

Please contact me at secretary@cawdorifleandgunclub.co.uk if you require any further information or to arrange your visit.
